ATTACHEMENT TO
APPLICANT INITIATED INTERVIEW REQUEST FORM

The availability of the attached Applicant Initiated Interview Request Form PTOL-413A has just come to the attention of the undersigned counsel, and it is therefore being presented to supplement and document prior requests for a brief telephone interview in this matter.

An Office Action issued January 23, 2003 finally rejecting all pending claims. Applicants' assignee subsequently filed an amendment after final in response to which a March 12, 2003 Advisory Action ("Advisory Action") was mailed. Upon receipt of the Advisory Action, applicants' assignee's attorneys immediately called the Examiner in an effort to discuss her "Response to Arguments" attached to the Advisory Action. The above-identified attorneys could not understand the Examiner's arguments and therefore needed clarification from her (in particular, about the Examiner's interpretation of "irregular laying" mentioned in a reference and her arguments with respect to claim 47) before proceeding in the case. Assignee's attorney, Kris Johnson, left a message on the Examiner's voicemail requesting that she return the call, but the call was not returned.

The attorneys filed a Request for Reconsideration in the case on March 31, 2003. Kris Johnson called and spoke with the Examiner on March 31, 2003 to ask her to consider and discuss the request. She indicated that she would have to check with her SPE before granting an interview. According to the Examiner, her SPE was out of the office until the next day. She promised to check with him then and call back, but never did. Kris Johnson followed up with her on April 2, 2003. The Examiner said that she had not had an opportunity to talk with her SPE, but that she had a meeting with him that day at 3:00 pm and would call Ms. Johnson back, but again never did.

The attorneys therefore filed a Supplemental Request for Consideration and a Request for Interview on April 4, 2003, but they did not hear from the Examiner. Kris Johnson called the Examiner on April 16, 2003 to follow up with respect to the Request for Interview. The Examiner indicated that her SPE would need to be at the interview, and she and the SPE were having trouble finding a time when they were both available. She indicated that Ms. Johnson should call her in a few weeks to see about scheduling an interview. Ms. Johnson pointed out that in a few weeks the Examiner's schedule would already be full again and thus requested that she return her call with a proposed interview date and time when both she and her SPE would be available. The Examiner promised that she would call Ms. Johnson with that information, but has not yet done so.

Applicant's assignee, through the undersigned counsel, requests a prompt response from the Examiner preferably granting the long-requested opportunity to discuss the matters described above. If the Examiner chooses to deny this request, they request the courtesy of being informed of that denial so that applicants' assignee can either or both appeal the final rejection or petition the Commissioner, as it determines to be appropriate, without further delay in the prosecution of this important application.
